DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's preliminary amendment filed March 2, 2005 is acknowledged and entered.

Claims 1-20, 23, 24, 26 and 27 are pending and subject to the following restriction.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- Group I, claim(s) 1-13; the special technical feature is a method of determining the rate of replication/destruction of an infectious agent in a host organism using an isotope-labeled precursor molecule.
- Group II, claim(s) 14-17; the special technical feature is a method of identifying an antimicrobial or immunostimulatory effect of a drug agent using the method of Group I.
- Group III, claims(s) 18-20; the special technical feature is a kit comprising an isotope-labeled precursor molecule and instructions for use to determine the rate of replication or destruction of the infectious organism.
- Group IV, claim(s) 23 and 24; the special technical feature is an isolated infectious agent comprising an isotope-labeled precursor molecule or biochemical component.
- Group V, claim(s) 26 and 27; the special technical feature is an isolated isotope-labeled biochemical component obtained from an infectious agent.

Art Unit: 1648

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Hellerstein (US Patent 6,010,846) discloses method for measuring cellular proliferation and destruction rates using isotope labels (abstract). Column 4, lines 17-26 is reproduced below:

In another aspect of the invention, methods for measuring the rates of proliferation and/or destruction of T cells in a subject infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) are provided. Such methods comprise administering a detectable amount of a stable isotope label to the subject, wherein the label is incorporated into DNA of the T cells of the subject via the de novo nucleotide synthesis pathway. The label in the DNA of the T cells of the subject is detected to measure the rates of proliferation and/or destruction of T cells in the subject.

Because nucleic acid of HIV is incorporated into the T cell DNA, Hellerstein's isotope is expected to bind to HIV nucleic acid. Therefore, the special technical feature of the invention is taught by the prior art. Lacking a special technical feature that contributes over the prior art, the claims lack unity of invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should Applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
